In addition, absent breach of fiduciary duty, lack of good faith or self-dealing, actions taken by a Director or any failure to take any action shall be presumed to be in the best interests of the Corporation.

STANDING RULES

1. Mushrooms for Serving at Meetings, Forays or Events

All specimens of wild mushrooms must be examined by a Club Mycologist or Identifier prior to cooking; any questionable or old specimens must be discarded. Dried mushrooms should be re-hydrated prior to their examination. Recipes can be prepared in advance and the mushrooms added after identification. If you want to prepare ahead, you must have your mushrooms identified by a Club Mycologist or Identifier before cooking.

Cultivated or 'store bought' mushrooms may be included in food dishes without Club identification.

Mushrooms (wild or cultivated) must be cooked or pickled; none are to be served raw.

Alcohol is permitted in the dishes; however, it must be prominently identified in the ingredients.

To avoid problems with food allergies or sensitivities, provide a list of all ingredients, not just the mushrooms. Failure to supply the ingredient list will prevent the item from being served at a meeting, foray or event.
